

The New Chicken-Keeper

Backyard chickens are the perfect symbiotic addition to the food-growing garden. Taking the plunge into keeping chickens - especially in the city - can be scary! We'll guide you in all the decisions from where to put a coop to what breeds of chickens you should get. We're also here to answer your questions after your flock arrives.

PACKAGE INCLUDES:

1:1 DISCUSSION SESSION

- Walk us through your yard for suggested coop location, ask questions, share your goals, and tell us your biggest fears. 30 minutes.

STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE

- List of personalized recommendations that take into account your experience level, goals, # of chickens you want, and your community's bylaws.

SUPPORT WHEN YOU NEED IT

- Up to two follow-up calls to get support as needed (best saved for after your chickens arrive, when new questions arise)
- must be used within 12-months of initial call

Step-by-Step Guide Includes:

- Includes infrastructure advice
- Chicken breeds and age
- Chicken care and common health issues to look for
- Equipment needed
- *Bylaw restrictions

Package Cost

$175

Note: You must have researched your local bylaws in advance to a) ensure backyard chickens are allowed; and b) be informed of any specific requirements like coop size and number of chickens allowed. We can do this research for you for an additional $50.*
